PROFILE

I'm a cosmopolitan born and raised in sunny Los Angeles, California. I am a firm believer that my diverse educational and professional experience coupled with my international ventures strengthen my understanding of and interactions with users across the board and bring a fresh perspective to my UX work.

Some of my hobbies and interests include photography, reading, traveling, learning languages, meeting new people, and outdoor activities (but I also enjoy being a couch potato).

Fun fact: I have mild trypophobia
